Centric Subzero Repair

Appliances &amp; Repair

Washington, DC 20015

★★★★★ 9/20/2017

Adrian is the man. Our sub zero had an ice block, broken ice maker, and many other maladies. He came today and fixed everything - its literally like new! I can not recommend this company highly enough. Adrian is awesome and truly knows this equipment inside and out.

So...we have stayed away from Mariners Landing for years, despite owning a home on the lake for over a decade. The Point fell apart years ago and we just didn't believe that they would ever get their act together and serve decent food. Today my wife and I decided to venture over there by boat and give it a try. The experience was very good and we will be there again. My wife and I had great service, the wine was decent, and our first meal was good. We only went with the sandwich menu for our first try here and I had the cheesesteak, my wife and the Blue burger (no bun) and we shared the onion petals. It was all really good. Example; the cheesesteak roll was toasted and really soft but a nice crisp on the toasted side. The steak and cheese were good. Might go with less (or none) mayo next time, but it was really great. My wife loved the burger without the bun and said all the topping were great. Sautéed veggies on the side were cooked perfectly - still enough crisp in them. All in, we are so happy to have another boat-able restaurant on the lake to go to. We will be back for sure.

Boulangerie Christophe

Today was the second visit here. This is a really amazing gem of a place. Authentic french options for breakfast and lunch prepared to perfection. The staff is mostly from France and the cuisine is delectable. The upstairs dining is quaint and comfortable and the back patio is perfect on a nice day. If you are in Georgetown or heading there to shop or whatever, go here for breakfast or lunch - I highly recommend.

Love this little grocery. Mr Kim is great and they are solid go to for basic food items, wine, and good deli sandwiches. We go here often - east village in Georgetown - its a good little grocery

Flavio Restaurant

1073 31st St NW
Washington, DC 20007

★☆☆☆☆ 5/4/2017

Wow - Flavio is an absolute "avoid at all costs" restaurant. I am shocked that anyone rates this as acceptable. First, it is anything but Italian. The owners should serve a cuisine that they actually know something about. The pasta is over cooked and mushy. Go two blocks to cafe milano or half a block to Filomena for actually really good homemade pasta cooked al dente. The bread is flat bread - this is an italian restaurant - it is tough. The Caesar salad looks like it had been made earlier during prep and brought out - it was clearly not fresh and completely unappealing. The pasta is served with these old wilted lettuce leafs on it - it is completely unappealing. The Fra Diavlo lobster is old and chalky. And finally the worst of all is the service. The waiter is in short sleeve t shirt stuffed into a way too small sweater vest. The parmigiana cheese for the pasta was brought in a bowl still with the cellophane wrap on it. I cannot spend more time saying how bad this place is, but I live in Georgetown. We wanted to try it as the location is excellent and we thought it was worth the attempt - what a bad decision. This needs to end badly so we can get a real restaurant with a manger who cares to actually manage, waiters who understand real restaurant service, and a chef who delivers quality food. This is absolutely horrible.

Rocky Mountain Raclette

Caterers

Vail, CO 81658

★★★★★ 4/7/2017

I highly recommend Kathryn and her team from Rocky Mountain Raclette. Its a truly special night where Swiss Raclette meats Rocky Mountain cuisine and creates a really fun, in home, conversational dinner with excellent food. If you are going to the Beaver Creek/Vail area with a group - try this. Its a special night!

El Sabor

★★★★★ 3/11/2017

A great surprise for those staying in Lionshead is El Sabor. I recommend going. My wife has the Mahi Tacos and she loved them. I had the shrimp fajitas and the shrimp was grilled to perfection and the sides (cheese, grilled veggies, sour cream, and guac) were -great. The Margherita's are excellent. The entire place is very casual..great for families and just low down good food. One suggestion: The Guac should be prepared fresh...it is really average and if the chef and servers would make it fresh per serving, it would make a huge difference. Same with the salsa...its clearly from a bottle. Make it fresh. But aside from that....its a good spot.

Mountain Standard

$$$ • American \(New\), Burgers, Bars

193 Gore Creek Dr
Vail, CO 81657

★★★★☆ 3/7/2017

Honestly, I think Mountain Standard is overrated. Everyone hypes this restaurant along with its sister restaurant, Sweet Basel. For this review I will say that Sweet Basel is a favorite of ours. Tonight we ate at Mountain Standard. The place was packed as expected. Our reservation was timed well and we sat on time. Our waitress was great. The food? Really just ok. The steak was overly salted to an extreme. Seriously - I am still tasting salt back in my hotel. My wife had the salmon and it tasted overly "fishy", the sign of a salmon purchased too long ago. My view is that Mountain Standard is resting on its laurels, been too hot for too long. Its a nice spot but does not deserve the fame that everyone gives it. Not returning and I recommend others not try too hard to eat there.

Postmates

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ 2/15/2017

AVOID at all costs. Tonight I ordered a simple dinner and they constantly pushed the delivery time out, ultimately by more than an hour further than promised. They have no phone number and did not respond to emails and yet still charged my card for no food. This is a terrible company and needs to be boycotted

M&M Appliance
$$ • Appliances & Repair, Appliances

Honestly, M&M is the best at appliance sales and installation. Their sales team is really helpful in guiding you to the correct decision and their installation and removal of the old to new appliance is outstanding. Really, the guys brought a level to make sure the dishwasher was perfectly adjusted and pulled out the old one and left no trace of their actions on our floors, walls, or entry. I have used them twice now while living in DC and compared to sears, Best Buy, or others that we have tried over our decades in homes and repairs....these guys are the best. And I rarely write this much on yelp for anyone,.
